Jarred is a member of the Business Litigation Department in the firm's Fort Myers office. He represents individuals and businesses in complex disputes, such as real property litigation, construction litigation, breaches of contract, partnership and shareholder disputes, breaches of fiduciary duty, trust and estate litigation, and other business torts. Jarred has significant experience assisting contractors to get paid, as well as helping clients comply with Florida's construction lien laws and collection actions. Jarred is admitted in all Florida state courts and the U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Florida.

Jarred received his law degree from New York University School of Law. During law school, he served as a legal intern with the United States Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York. In this capacity, he conducted legal research and assisted with depositions and trial preparations.

Jarred has been recognized for his professional achievements and was named a "Rising Star" by Florida Super Lawyers magazine in 2019.

Jarred is a native of Lee County and a proud alumnus Florida Gulf Coast University and Evangelical Christian School. Prior to joining Henderson Franklin, he practiced business litigation in the local office of a national law firm.
